Dedication

Mrs. Joan Lehnert

For nearly 20 years Mrs. Joan Lehnert has been a fundamental part of the Huntington High School teaching staff. Students and teachers agree that Mrs. Lehnert is something special! Senior, Sarah Conte said "Mrs. Lehnert is such a caring teacher. Whenever I don't understand a topic she always makes herself available to help me before school, after school or during a free period. She makes learning more enjoyable." This sentiment is echoed by all her students. Everyone knows they can count on Mrs. Lehnert because her dedication is above and beyond what is required. For Joan Lehnert, teaching is a heartfelt passion. Ask any colleague and they will agree Mrs. Lehnert does just about everything with heart and total devotion. In addition to being known as a masterful teacher, Mrs. Lehnert is well known for being a voice for her peers in the school building & for always standing up for what is right. No matter where she is or what she is doing, Mrs. Joan Lehnert is enthusiastically meeting life head on. Thank you Mrs. Lehnert for all you do!

This past summer senior Grace Kelly went with the People to People travel program and visited Stonehenge in England.

The first day of high school. I remember it like it was yesterday. In fact, I'm sure every one of us does. The alarm clock going off an extra hour early, hurrying to the bus stop (not cool enough to drive), searching for classes in a brand new environment. Although we may not like to admit it, the first day was certainly an overwhelming experience.

Fast forward four years. Now seniors, we laugh at those days. If we remember to set the alarm clock, it's an achievement in itself. We're too cool for buses (who needs them when you have cars?). We know our way around the school like we know the backs of our hands.

Together, as a class, we've come a long way. From Homecoming to Playfest, SATs to college applications, each one of us has progressed in one way or another. True, next year, we will head in different directions and face new challenges. However, our experiences here, from the friendships we've formed to the memories we've made, shall never be forgotten.

Congratulations Class of 2009! I wish you all the best of luck!

Salutatorian

Dylan Payne

"I used to be legit. I was too legit. I was too legit to quit. But now I'm not legit. I'm unlegit. And for that reason, I must quit." — Hot Rod

Class of 2009, we are legit, and for that reason, we must never quit. For the past four years, our lives have revolved around this school: friends, classes, and sports. In these short years we've changed from meek freshmen to lofty seniors. We never fail to end a school event with a hardcore party, whether it be Homecoming, prom, or a basketball game. Yes, we've had our fair share of good times together ... but the end of bromanship is upon us.

After one last summer in Huntington, we will go our separate ways and be obliged to share our talents with the collegiate institutions of the nation. Our friendships will last; we will stay in touch, and we will excitedly reunite during our holiday breaks. Once the best four years of our lives are finished, we will be asked to join the "real world" and contribute to society. However, I have no doubt that we will exceed the high expectations set on us. I anticipate that our enthusiasm for everything in life will rally the nation, currently at its darkest yet most hopeful hour. I therefore ask you to take this great responsibility on your shoulders. Do not buckle under the immense weight of the task I have bequeathed upon you. When we are called upon, we must be ready to lead our nation forward. I ask you to go forth and represent our school, our community, and most importantly, our family – the Huntington High School Class of '09!

Sr. Class President

Matte Scully

For the class of 2009, school is almost like a reality show. We have all been through the ups and downs of life together. For example, we obviously are known to be "cursed." No Green Kill memories to talk about, attendance in every class and hall sweeps before every period. I mean how could it get any worse? Somehow or another we all found a way to get through all this mess together. This year has shown every one of us what a great class we have become. Our senior year, more than any, has brought each and every one of us closer together. From attending sporting events together to late nights at Rosas every weekend, we have come together as a whole. It showed us the confidence we all have to take the next step in life, whether it's together or alone. If we decide to go to college, get a job, start a business or a family, maybe even travel the world, we are going to be darn good at it. Everything we have done together for the past four years has been a great success. The reason behind this is because we have become a family. We fight, we laugh, we cry, but no matter what in the end we are always and will forever be the Huntington High School CLASS OF 2009!

G.O. President

Kristy Lyons

It's been almost four years since the Class of 2009 took its first steps down the halls of Huntington High School. No one could have predicted the success that we would attain throughout our high school careers. We are one of the most dynamic and talented group of students to ever come to Huntington High School. From our domination of Battle of the Classes to our amazing Homecoming floats, the class of 2009 has more than proven itself. We serve as role models for the underclassmen and provide a model of success. Each individual student has played an integral role in producing the triumphant grade that we have become as a whole; with amazing athletes, intellectuals, musicians and everyone in between, our class is truly remarkable.

We have been together for the past four years and over these years we have formed and solidified many friendships that have enabled us to make it through many difficult challenges. Regardless of the separate paths that we make take in the future, these everlasting bonds will never be broken and will help us in all aspects of our lives. I'm proud to be a part of the Class of 2009!

Class of 2010

Class of 2010,

Writing this now, it's March of our Junior year. It's impeccably hard to believe that there are only 4 months left of this year, and then we'll be seniors. It's 2009, and we graduate in 2010. This has been a tough year for everyone- between AP classes, studying for the SATs, driver's ed and the start of really looking at colleges. The teachers have been a little more harsh on us- personally speaking I can say that there is a love/hate relationship between everyone in our US History class.

Homecoming of this year in a way precipitated the difficulties to come- when we were partly disqualified for using tinfoil on our float. I do have to say though, those tinfoil pieces were probably the best looking replicas ever made of monopoly pieces. Only our class could put together something that looked so good but went against the rules of the parade. Despite everything I was so proud of everyone that worked so hard over the summer and then those who came to float night to put it all together: thank you so much!

Even though most of the year has gone by, there are still so many things that are to come and that I know our class will succeed in- battle of the classes will be in a few weeks, and I'm pretty sure that we'll dominate (... remember how last year we started out really great and then just... no. We lost everything haha).

I want to thank all of the officers- Esther Kum, Rebecca Silverman, Meredith McCourt, Casey Singer, Dan McGale and Caitlin Etri because this year everyone has definitely done their part in organizing fundraisers for prom and getting everything together. And thank you Schwendy for doing such a great job for us as well as everything else that you do.

Good luck with everything to come!

Class of 2011

Listed Alphabetically: Sarah Casey, Richie Gray, Holly Helstrom, Cody Jacobs, Ally Kiley, Shayne Larkin, Advisor: Ms. Pyzocha

Over the past year, the Class of 2011 had their great moments and sometimes times of difficulty. But no matter what the situation was, we eventually pulled together and were victorious in everything we did. When I was elected president, my main goal was not for Student Government to just be another club that officers are only involved in, but to be a group effort that the whole grade is involved with. I wanted our grade to notice some of the great things Student Government puts together, like float night, Playfest, the Breast Cancer walk, and fundraisers for our prom. I knew my job was completed when people (that I never expected to be involved) wanted to help out with all of the things we do. As a class we did very well and have nothing but better things coming up in the future. The Class of 2011 would never have been so stressful without Ally Kiely, Shayne Larkin, Holly Helstrom, Sarah Casey, and Cody Jacobs. Even when I was at my breaking point, they were always there for me and just did a wonderful job. I also wanted to thank my advisors Ms. Pysocha and Ms. Oranges, we couldn't have done it without you! Also, thanks to Mr. Bisogno and Mr. Troffa. Without them there wouldn't be a Student Government! Thank you for giving me this opportunity as Class President!

We work together, We work as one
Though there may be times
When we don't 'get on'

We may not always see 'eye to eye'
And sometimes we feel like saying 'good-bye'

When this happens we shouldn't lose heart
For of 'something greater'
We are all a part

Each one of us has a role to play

Dear Students,

You have experienced one of the most pivotal years in the recent history of the United States. Our country is facing an unprecedented financial crisis that has shaken the confidence of even the most optimistic among us. However, as many know, out of hardship come valuable life lessons. As we endure, we also develop the tenacity and knowledge that will help us rebuild and improve. There is nothing like a challenge to unite people around common causes and to motivate many to show solidarity and willingness to help others.

As young adults you have done your part in fundraising and donating to those in need. As friends, you have shown your support of other students by being there for those whose families faced unparalleled stress. You have exemplified the kind of service that helps to strengthen communities large and small. Your fortitude has also been reflected in this year's robust political arena. As a democratic nation, we have lived up to ideals that have made it possible for us to select the first African-American president. This election has generated extensive involvement on the part of young people. You have participated by devoting your time and talent to the campaign of the candidate of your choice, by learning about the issues that drove those campaigns, and, if you were 18 years old, by voting. Our government, at every level, can only grow stronger by your continued involvement.

In your adult years, when you remember the 2008-2009 school year at Huntington High School, I hope you will remember these life lessons. And, along with the names and faces of your closest friends, I hope you remember the names of those teachers who informed you, guided you and expanded your thinking this year.

Fondly,

Carmela Leonardi, Ph.D.

The Year in review: Two Bombs Explode at U.S. Embassy in Yemen (Sept. 17): A car bomb and a rocket hit the U.S. Embassy in connection with the attack. Hurricane Affects Opening of the Republican National Convention (Sept. 1): With Hurricane Gustav hitting the Republican National Convention, making it a business-only affair without the celebratory mood and speeches. A worldwide audience drama. The Olympics was a nightly epic soap opera, in which Michael Phelps played the ideal leading man. The American swimmer's story to know about the Baltimore native's arm span, eating regimen, his family, and whether or not he was romantically involved. Michelle Obama, 8 months pregnant. House Passes a Bill to Expand Offshore Drilling (Sept. 16): Legislation would allow drilling for oil 50 miles offshore, which passes, 236 to 189, also cuts some tax benefits for oil companies and calls on utilities to produce 15% of their power from nuclear fuel with India. The ban was imposed by the U.S. in 1974 after India tested a nuclear weapon. Candidates Hold Series of Debates: McCain, Obama, Clinton, and Alaska, clash over the war in Iraq, tax policy, oil and the environment, and the financial crisis that has dominated the news and Washington. McCain as a maverick. Federal Judge Orders That Guantánamo Bay Detainees Be Freed (Oct. 7): Judge Ricardo Urbina, of the Southern District of New York, says they have never posed a threat to the U.S., nor have they fought against the U.S. They have been held at Guantánamo Bay for years, the world and the Web with one very famous photo and one very popular appearance on Oprah. Search predictably spiked a few times. Taylor Swift owed her quick ascent to her girl-next-door looks and catchy country songs. The 18-year-old singer made headlines for her romantic interest. Fame came at a cost, or at least heartache: Swift topped headlines and pulled searches in November after revealing a relationship with a former boyfriend. Representatives rejected a similar deal, the Senate votes, 74 to 25, in favor of a "sweetened" plan. In addition to the provisions of the bill, it allows the government to seize financial assets, limits executive pay, gives the government an equity stake in companies that participate in the plan, and gives the government access to $250,000 the amount of bank deposits covered by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and extends $150 billion in tax cuts. In September, 159,000 jobs were lost in September, the most in five years. Economy Shrinks for First Time in Years. Barack Obama Is Elected against Sen. John McCain, taking 338 electoral votes to McCain's 161. Obama's victory is assured after winning crucial swing states. The country facing two wars and an economy in tatters. Democrats increase their majority in the House and pick up five seats in the Senate. Brad Pitt may be no stranger to movie fame, but a surprising battle with pancreatic cancer thrust him into this year's spotlight. Brad Pitt undergoes chemotherapy, the beloved dirty dancer shocked everyone by heading back to work on a new TV show. Travis returns to the stage (Dec. 8): Khalid Sheikh Mohammed, suspected of being the mastermind of the attacks, and four codefendants tell the military prosecutors that they must report back on whether the suspects can be sentenced to death without being found guilty by a military court. Russert, Yves Saint-Laurent, Tony Snow, Milton Wolff. . Gone, but not Forgotten Caylee Anthony, a Florida toddler who disappeared in late summer. Her mother Casey was charged with her murder. # Congratulations, Tiffany!!!

To Tiffany, a real life princess and her family's great treasure: May you influence many children to be lights of hope and love in this world! -Dad

To my littlest daughter, Tiffany: There is no doubt you have worked hard and achieved great things. Your grades tell us you are smart. But what makes you wise is that you know that along with these accomplishments, it is the love of friends and family that makes you a real success. You go, Tiff! Love, Mom

Tioni: I am so proud of all your accomplishments; you are an inspiration. May you find your great purpose in life, and may that purpose impact others. God bless you! -Love, Anoni-

You!!!

T-Little: You are without a doubt the realist person I know. You have the strength, brains, and wisdom of anyone twice your age. Don't ever give up on your dreams because the places you will go are places most of us can only dream of. I love you so much, Tiffany, and I am so lucky to have been given a sister like you. -Your big brother, Jesse

Dear Tioni: Congratulations on graduating high school! I am very proud to call you my little sister. I know you will be very successful and I wish you nothing but the best in all you do. Follow your dreams and make them reality. I love you very much. Love always, Becky

Dear Tiffany: Your zeal for humanity and passion for self-improvement are an inspiration to all who have been blessed to know you. I am so proud to call you my sister! As you embark on the great and exciting journey of adulthood, allow me to suggest you think of it as a road trip: you are a progressive spirit traveling along a road of change through a stubborn, old world. I offer you the following advice:

- Stop often to smell the roses. As you know, it's the journey, not the destination.
- Bring your AAA card (or call one of the boys - that's what your sisters do).
- When you pass a distressed motorist, stop and offer help.
- When the road gets rocky, recite the Serenity Prayer.
- Then, put your Jungle Jeep in four-wheel-drive and floor it!

Keep up the good work! I love you more than you can imagine! Godspeed...
-Your bro, Luke

CONGRATULATIONS MARIA!

all I left my happy home to see what I could find out, I left my folk and friends with the aim to clear my mind out all I hit the rowdy road and many kinds I met there, Many stories told me of the way to get there on and on I go, the seconds tick the time out There's so much left to know, and I'm on the road to find out all in the end I'll know, but on my way I wonder, Through descending snow, and through the frost and thunder all, I listen to the wind come howl, telling me I have to hurry I listen to the robins song saying not to worry
 on and on I go, the seconds tick the time out, There's so much left to know, and I'm on the road to find out when I found myself alone, hoping someone would miss me, Thinking about my home, and the last time they kissed sometimes you have to moan when nothing seems to suit ya, But nevertheless I know I'm locked towards the future
 on and on I go, the seconds tick the time out, There's so much left to know, and I'm on the road to find out when I found my head one day when I wasn't even trying, And here I have to say, cause there is no use in lying the answer lies within, so why not take a look now? Kick out the devils sin, pick up, pick up the good book now
 I love you Joey! Enjoy your journey. Remember, no matter what road you choose, we're right around the corner.
 Love, Mom, Pop, Billy, Stephen & Malese

Your lil sis, Brianna

Liz- It's amazing how fast 17 years pass by. You have always been little Elizabeth to me, but now you are about to start your new life. I believe you will succeed in every way! Do things the right way and never back down. Good Luck sister, Congratulations! Love your brother, John am so proud of you. We have been through hell and back and you always managed to keep us on straight. You are such a beautiful, smart, young lady that gets everything going for her. I love you. Thanks for always being there! Congratulations my lil mama! Love always your big sis, April

This past year I've watched you brave senior year head on whether it was meeting deadlines or writing essays, you stepped up and met every challenge. Although, at times you seemed overwhelmed, you've had what it takes since 07/08/91. Now you're off to college and ready to face the world, I'd like to tell you "good luck", but I'm just hoping that I can keep up LOL!! Congrats baby love, Your CUTER half!! Marvin

To my dearest Elizabeth, Where do I start? So much to say! Since you were born you have been a blessing in my life! You have so many qualities. You are smart, hard working and compassionate. Even though life has had some bumpy roads you have shined through! I have always had faith in you that you will accomplish all that you want! I am so proud of you! My little girl has grown into a little woman! I love you with all my heart and soul!

Remember the Christmas Mix!!! Let it always remind you of the 'sweet' years of High School, even though parts were hard, maybe a little salty. Some of the ingredients would not be so good all alone, but together created something spectacular, like your orchestra concerts & Crew Team regattas. Like the mix, there have been some surprise ingredients in your life, which you have often captured in your photography. You've grown to be a young man who shares the good things in your life, and the Christmas Mix is just one example!

From the day you were born, our life has never been the same!!! It has been sweet, amazing, filled with surprises and blessings, and we have enjoyed the show for the past 18 years. As you graduate, we're proud of you and very excited for your future, and, most of all, We Love You!!

Love, Mom, Dad, Joey, Gregory (and Elvis)

To Our Beautiful Kristy,

*It is impossible to put into words how important you are and how very much we love you. You are a compassionate, kind, bright, special and talented young woman with a beautiful soul.
